LITERARY NOVELTIES, &c.

We have been favoured with an early copy of Mr. M'Diarmid's new work, entitled "Sketches from Nature." It is divided into two parts, the first of which contains anecdotes illustrative of the habits of various Animals; and the second, Fragments of Scottish scenery and manners.

There is preparing for publication, Memoirs of the late Right Rev. Bishop Sandford, with extracts from his Diary, Correspondence, and Sermons, by the Rev. John Sandford, A.M. Vicar of Chillingham.

The author of "The Morning and Evening Sacrifice," "The Last Supper," and "Farewell to Time," has announced another work as in the press, in three volumes duodecimo, to be entitled "The Living Temple," in which man is considered in his true relation to the ordinary occupations and pursuits of life.

The Rev. Michael Russell, L.L.D. author of "A Connexion of Sacred and Profane History," &c. has in the press, a small volume of "Discourses on the Millennium, the Doctrine of Election, Justification by Faith, the Assurance of Faith, and the Freeness of the Gospel," &c. &c.

Mair's Introduction to Latin Syntax, with additional Notes, Examples in Prose, and a copious Vocabulary, by the Rev. A. Stewart, Editor of an improved edition of Cornelius Nepos, &c. is reported to be nearly ready.

A second series of Stories from the History of Scotland, by the Rev. Alexander Stewart, which is intended to complete the work, is preparing for publication.

Mr. Charles Marsh has been for some time engaged in a complete General History of the East Indies; and has now made considerable progress in the work.

Perkin Warbeck and the Court of James IV. of Scotland is announced.

The Rev. Richard Warner has in the press a volume of Literary Recollections and Biographical Sketches. The Pilgrims of the Holy Land, by the Rev. J. H. Rogers, the author of "Three Days at Killarney," is announced.

There is preparing for publication, a History of the Church from the Creation to the commencement of the Nineteenth Century, in the form of Question and Answer, by the late Alexander Smith Patterson, of Aberdeen, edited by the Rev. James Breuster, Minister of Craig.

A new volume of Country Stories, by Miss Mitford, author of "Our Village," is in the press.

The Picture of India, exhibiting in a brief, yet clear and graphic manner, the Geography, Topography, History, Natural History, Population, and Produce of that most interesting portion of the Earth; with a particular Account of the European Settlements, with the present state of the British Territories, and an impartial View of the India Question, with reference to the impending Discussion on the renewal of the Charter, with many appropriate Illustrations, from original designs, is announced.

An Annual for the year 1830, entitled, The Penelope, has been published at Leipzig. It is edited by Theodore Hell, a very startling name for English ears.

The second volume of Moore's Life of Byron is expected to be ready in a few weeks. The first has had a very extensive sale.

The papers of the Earl of Marchmont, comprising a variety of original and unknown Documents, Diaries, &c. illustrative of the reigns of Queen Anne, George I. &c. are in the press.

WORKS IN THE PRESS.

The following new works are projected:—The Lives of the Bishops of Ireland, from the earliest to the present period, by the Rev. S. Hyndar Cassar; a Descriptive Road-Book, for the use of Travellers in Germany, by E. A. Donier; The First Book of the Iliad, (containing the Parting of Hector and Andromache, and the Shield of Achilles,) being a specimen of a new translation of Homer, in heroic verse, by Wm. Sotheby; Derwentwater, or the Fate of Ratcliffe, a Tale of 1715; Stuart and Revett's Antiquities of Athens, completed; The Listener, by Caroline Fry; a work, entitled, an Inquiry into the Production and Consumption of the Precious Metals, and on the Influence of their Augmentation or Diminution on the Commerce of the World, by Mr. Jacob; an Essay on the Distribution of Wealth, and on the Sources of Taxation, by the Rev. Richard Jones, late of Caius College, Cambridge—printing at the University press; a Life of Petrarch, for Dr. Lardner's Cyclopaedia, by T. Moore—the several analogies pointed out in his Life of Byron, between that Poet and Petrarch, probably suggested this idea; the Barony, a Romance, by Miss A. M. Porter; Travels in Russia, and a Residence in St. Petersburg and Odessa, in the years 1827-28, by Edward Morton, M.B.; the Living Temple, by the Author of the Farewell to Time, and other works; Discourses on the Millennium, by the Rev. NOTICES TO CORRESPONDENTS, &c.

Victor's Soldier, appears to us to have deserved only hanging instead of shooting, which is a death somewhat too good for an assassin; we, therefore, cannot represent him as a martyred hero, even though 'love was the cause of his folly.'

We greatly prefer S. S. R.'s first to his second enclosure: we shall be glad to hear from him again, in the former strain.

We are infinitely indebted for the kind wishes of our fair Correspondent in Cork, and shall 'in all our best ob'g' hurs.'

We have received Mr. Ackonte Smythe's polite note from the same famous 'city of slaughtering and prime mess beef'; but the subject is not one upon which we could enter. We have to apologise for the omission of many favours. Paulina certainly in our next.

We were half-provoked and half-amused to observe, lately, original information, copied from the Literary Gazette into the London papers without acknowledgment, and re-copied into the Dublin and Provincial Irish Journals, with acknowledgment to the London papers from which it was taken by them. This is "too bad."

Ob der sogenannte Shaghir zu uns schicken werde, er soll einen Brief und auch einen Kleinen Gedichte von Uland bekommen—

"Und weiter giebt es zu wünschen nicht mehr."
